September 2025

Hurst Green Evangelical Church opens its doors – and keeps them wide open!

Something has changed! There's a new building on the Green. For a couple of months now, people walked past the new building on the Green and wondered: "Is it a café? A yoga studio? Or a very enthusiastic garden shed?" Curiosity peaked when the windows went in - some thought it might be an art gallery, while others hoped for a new bakery (sorry about that). Well, the mystery is solved: It's the brand-new home of Hurst Green Evangelical Church - and everyone's invited in!

After months of planning, prayer, and more Trustees meetings than body or soul could bear, the church is ready to serve the community. And don't worry – this isn't one of those "look but don't touch" kind of places. The chairs are for sitting, the biscuits are for eating, and the kettle is permanently on standby (it's practically part of the family).

So, what's the big idea? Well, the church isn't just about Sunday mornings – it's about being a space where anyone and everyone can find hope, friendship, and maybe even learn how to sing in tune (miracles do still happen). Coming up soon are a new Toddlers' group, Just Ask group for those exploring the big questions of life, and an Alpha Course for anyone curious about the Christian faith – plus a few surprises along the way (although we can't promise bingo). Check out the website to see all that is going on www.hurstgreenfellowship.org.

Most importantly, this is more than a building; it's a place for real people, real conversations, and yes, real cake. So why not pop in, say hello, and see what's going on? The doors are open, the smiles are free, and if you bring your dog, someone will almost definitely pet it.

Here's to the future – may it be full of laughter, love, and the certainty that God is with us.

The new church building stands as a living testimony of God's generosity and faithfulness. In a hundred and three years since the founding of the church God has always been there, providing what's needed, if not always what we wanted.

Lamentations 3:22–23

"Because of the Lord's great love we are not consumed, for his compassions never fail. They are new every morning; great is your faithfulness."

Keith Dickson, Pastor, Hurst Green Evangelical Church

Merchant Ship Figureheads by Helen Doe

Lecture in Limpsfield Church hall RH8 0UD, Guests: £10 on the door

Refreshments served before the lecture - come early and enjoy a Welcome-Back drink and time to socialize. Afternoon only lecture at 2.15 pm

Why were they created and what and who did they represent? The nineteenth century was the height of wooden merchant shipping around the world and harbours were once filled with ships of all sizes, many with figureheads. Wooden ships were built around the coast of Britain and Ireland. Locally owned, these ships sailed across the oceans and their stories relate to these ship owning communities. The talk will look at myths connected with figureheads, famous figureheads and lesser known ones. It will consider the background to a figurehead and the people they represented. It finishes with one figurehead that inspired the career of a famous novelist.
